The republican party had, with a magnanish where before witnessed been guided simply by the proposition, nothing for punishment, everything for safety." Just as fast as it was understood to be safe, and perhaps a latte fasier, disabilities had been removed, and if it were proclaimed that in every State of the South any man could express his sentiments on any subject, in a proper manner, without moleculation he would vote for a general amnesty. SALES OF CADETSHIPS.

Mr. LOGAN, (rep.) of ill., from the Committee on Mintary adiairs, on the subject of the sale of cadet appointments reported that the committee had taken testimony in the case of B. F. Winttemore, member of congress from the First district of South Carolina, which testimony, together with the statement made to the committee by Mr. Whitemore in excellation of nimed, he submitted to the flouse. The committee having carefully considered the same, had come to the conclusion that in making the appointments to the mintary and maval academies from the district represented by him, B. F. Whitemore, Representative in Congress from the First Congression of Simple of the House, be and is hereby expected from his seat as a member of the House of Representations in he Forty-rat Congress.

The CLERK then proceeded to read the testimony

The CLERK then proceeded to read the testimony of Messrs, Catheart, Delly and P. H., Regier, of New York; General Schoeff, of Washington, and E. P. Brooks newspaper correspondent, and the exculpatory statement made by Mr. Whitemore. The report was signed by Messrs. Logate Coob, Packard, Stougaton, Asper, Witcher, Morgan, Slocum and Hoge.

The following is an abstract of the testimony and statement. The testimony of Philip H. Kegier was to the following effect:

He resides at Staten Island, N. Y., and was a resident of Charleston until August last; in January, 1869, he received for the property of t

Mr. Paly testified to having, through the intermedium of Mr. Walco, and he understood through Mr. Stocks also, received an applotament to West Foint for his son, for which Mr. Whittemore stated before the committee that he made a sort of a promise of his appointment of a naral cadetality to the son of a coincapte of his in the Fortieth Congress, Mr. Goos, and that when Kegler applied to him for the appointment, and when he had so told Mr. Goos when he applied to him for the appointment, and when he had so told Mr. Goos when he applied to him for the applied to him to pass an examination to give the application of him, and he had so told Mr. Goos when he applied to him for the Mr. Goos had said to him, "If you make an appointment of my son I will give you seed out if you had not make an appointment of my son I will give you seed from the whitever: Goos said to him, "You are thing a get the promiser of the whitever: Goos and the him, "If you make an appointment of my son I will give you seed from the appointment is will give you seed to the whitever: Goos said to him, "You are thing a get to did you are not be appointment; if you give my so the appointment; if you give my so the appointment; if will give you seed to the appointment, if you give my so the appointment; if will give you seed the my son the appointment; if will give you seed the minute to the promiser of the did the promiser. He said that he would receive nothing whatever for the suppointment; Mr. Rooks said, "You have pretty hard times down there, politically, during him, "Mr. Whittennor and to you not?" Mr. Whittennor had, "You have pretty hard times down there, politically, during him, you?" Mr. Whittennor said, no; "the National Committee has not helped us very much, or any other committee; we have had to hoe our own row and padde our own canoe;" Mr. Brooks said, "You are not helped very much, "Mr. Brooks said, "You are not helped our own canoe;" Mr. Brooks said, "You was not helped us very much, or any other committee; we have had to hoe our own row and padde our own canoe;" Mr. Brooks said, "You was the said our own canoe;" Mr. Brooks said, "You was the said of carrying on the campaign and nelping you politically, I suppose you don't care saything about that?" Mr. Locan, chairman of the committee, rose and said:—Ine House has just heard read the evidence taxen in the case of Mr. Whittennor and the statement which tank gentleman himself had submitted to the committee, if he had no desire to precide Mr. Polank, (rep.) of Vr. remarked that a certainly had no desire to releve him, whittennor and care. If he are one of the committee, which had been taken by the house of the house of the committee of the induse of the co

He said that whatever might be the impression of He said that winatever might be the impression of members on hearing the evidence read, and wnatever may be the feeling with which they regarded the transaction, it was but due to themselves that they should give a nearing at the bar of the House to the party implicated at such time, as short as might be, and yet long enough for him to prepare himself on that very momentous question. To rum, as well as to the House, he thought it but fair play and but justice to the House as well as to the accused.

nim, as well as to the House, he thought it but fair play and but justice to the House as well as to the accused.

Air. Logan remarked that he had stated several times that if Mr. Whittemore desired to make any delence before the House he was willing that he should be heard, but Mr. Whittemore bad not said to him that he had any such desire.

Mr. BUTLER thought that Mr. Whittemore should not be called upon to decide that question at once. Under the unfortunate, emburrassing circumstances he might not be in a condition of thought, or judgment, or consideration to decide that question at once.

Mr. JENCKES, (rep.) of R. L. remarked that it was the duty of the House to give the member time.

Mr. POLAND said that it was of the highest importance that the evidence should be printed, and that Mr. Whittemore did desire a delay.

Mr. BANKS. (rep.) of Mass., did not think that any case of this kind had ever been acted on by this House without the testimony concerning it being in print. He thought that time for printing the testimony should be given without regard to the wishes of the member implicated.

Mr. Logan took the responsibility of saying for the committee that the committee was willing that the matter should be set down for a nearing at two o'clock on Wednesday.

Mr. Cohurn, (rep.) of Ind., thought there was not any sense in delaying the matter a moment unless it was delayed long enough to give unembers time to read the evidence in print. He did not understand that the House was a military commission, or court martial or that there was any reason why it should rush into a decision of this kind, that was to affect the character of this gentleman and his family for the team. rush into a decision of this kind, that was to affect the character of this gentleman and his family for all time to come. Why this haste? They owed it to memselves as men of sense and as men setting a precedent of a most important character to take time in this matter.

Mr. Butler, said that he had proposed the short time fixed in his resolution out of consideration to the accused member, in order that the rebound that would be reflected from the press in an exparte hearing might not come back and inflict prejudice in his case.

would be reneased not not the bess in an experience hearing might not come back and innict prejudice in his case.

Mr. Coburn besought members to take time to democrate. There might be some additional evidence required. He did not know but that the evidence of Shaw should be had.

Mr. Davis, (rep.) of N. Y., reminded Mr. Coburn that the resolution offered by Mr. Butler did not call for a vote on Weinesday, but simply called on the accused to answer at the bar of the House. The sooner he was heard the better for all of them.

Mr. Loans said that he did not see any necessity for gentiemen making instinations about acting with undue hoste, nor for that excitement which some gentiemen manifested. No other committee of investigation had ever given an accused pasty the chance to come before it and make it is own statement and save it taken down and put in as part of the exommation. The committee had acted with every possible fairness towards this gentleman. The committee had eacted with the chance in the statement and had given him every opportunity to every possible fairness towards this gentleman. The committee had read to him the evidence affecting hun, and had given him every opportunity to bring witnesses and to defend himself by his own statement. Was it, therefore, fair to say that there was too much haste or pressure? If the object was to postpone the matter for the purpose of huning up witnesses and making the House an investigating committee, he was not willing to agree to any such proposition. He was willing that the question should be postponed until Wednesday, and that Mr. Whittemore should have an opportunity of defending himself. If the committee had charged him without sufficient evidence, or had acted unfairly towards him, let the House so decide and let the country know it. So far as he himself was concerned, he would stand there to be condemned by the House and by his countrymen if he had not discharged his duty properly towards the unfortunate man. He moved the previous question.

The previous question was seconded, and Mr. Butler's resolution as modified, directing Mr. Whittemore to appear before the House at two o'clock on Wednesday next, and that the evidence be in the meanwhile printed, was agreed to without any negative vote.

A motion to adjourn over to-morrow, in honor of

A motion to adjourn over to-morrow, in honor of Washington's birtiday, was lost, and then the House at five o'clock adjourned.

STOP THE INTEREST AND REDUCE THE TAXES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21, 1870. The President and Committee of Ways and Means have had a talk, and concluded to reduce our rate of taxation somewhat-enough, they say to lessen the people's burden $50,000,000 next year. It is a matter of regret that Secretary Boutwell did not participate in the conference. He certainly could have made some valuable suggestions re lating to Treasury affairs, whereby many minlo dollars more might be saved to the people. But since he was not consulted we will supply the omis-

Since the 4th of March last Secretary Boutwell has ourchased, according to law, for the "Sinking Fund," including the million dollars to be purchased Thursday next, $27,497,500; and according to no law, but subject to the future action of Congress, $10,825,500—nearly one hundred million dollars in all. The avowed object of these purchases was to stop the interest and reduce the people's burden of taxation. Very many taxpayers will therefore be astonished to learn that the burden of interest on our national debt has not been decreased one dollar. Secretary Eoutwell continues to pay interest on the purchased bonds where only simple interest was exacted before they came into his possession.

The people are taxed and the government is paying over $5,000,000 per year interest to itself on its own matered and paid up obligations. This amount is again invested in bonds and interest is paid on interest, compounding it over and over again. By this hocus-pocus process of reduction, by a "sinking fund," the interest burden of our debt cannot be decreased one cent until after the last dollar of the principal is paid.

The amount of interest paid is the exact burden of our national debt at the rate of $2,000,000 Fund," including the million dollars to be purchased per week—twice as fast as there is any need or—without gecreasing the burden of interest one dollar. If it is desirable to pay any portion of the principal at present a sum, say $1,000,000 per week or less, not one cent more, should be appropriated for the payment of matured bonds, which should be at once burned in the presence of a committee appointed by the government for the purpose, and the interest thereby stopped at once.

There are now stored in the vanils at the Treasury Department about one hundred million deliars of purchased bonds—a standing temptation to fraud and definication. To be sure they are all said to be stamped or punched; but opportunity for reissness or demications to an enormous amount cannot be wanting, particularly when we reflect that they are in charge of underpaid and irresponsible officials. Congress should at once direct the Secretary of the Treasury to have the whole amount counted, registered and burned; repeal the crude and ill-considered sinking Fund law, and stop forever the parment of interest on our matured and paid up obligations. Here is a chance to save $6,000,000 this year. We call the attention of the Committee of Ways and Means to it. If that body of wise men improve this opportunity we will give them another. The proposed $50,000,000.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Worcester Divorce Case-Indiana Declared Legal Throughout the United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21, 1870.

Benjamin H. Cheever vs. Jesse B. Wilson and Annie J. Worcester—Appeal from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.—This was an action brought to enforce the provisions of a decree of divorce granted in Indiana between the plaintiff in error and the defendant, Worcester. The decree of divorce granted in Indiana between the plaintuff in error and the defendant, worgester. The decree also provided for the appropriation of certain property in the District of Columbia, belonging to the wife, towards the support and maintenance of the children of the marriage, which were in the custody of the father. This portion of the decree the mother subsequently refused to execute, although after it was made she had entered into an agreement with Cheever to do the very acts directed therein, insisting that the proceedings in the indiana court were void for want of jurisdiction, and the court below so held it.

Mr. Justice Swayne delivered the opinion of this court, reversing the decree below and remanding the cause, with directions to enter a decree in conformity with the opinion which finds the decree of divorce of the Indiana court to be valid, the court having had jurisdiction of the parties by the appearance of the husband in the action without raising the question there. The decree for that reason is conclusive upon the parties to the suit and as it is rated by the laws of Indiana, and has never been questioned there under the constitution of the United States, it must prevail in every other portion of the country. The Court also asserts that so far from being bound by the domicil of her husband. a married woman may acquire a residence is necessary to the protection of her rights by litigation. The Court rest their decision as to the disposition of the property upon the agreement of the wife subsequently to the divorce, and do not find in becessary to imquire into the authority of the Indiana court to make the decree in respect of the property in the district. This contract between Mrs. Worcester and Mr. Cheever is held to be sufficient for the purpose of the decision on that point, without going beyond it. Mrs. Cheever, subsequent to the divorce, married Worcester, and hence she is made dependant by that name.

Congress Cannot Establish Police Regulations

Within the States.

The United States vs. Henry C. Dewitt,—Certificate of division from the Circuit Court of Michigan.—The defendant was indicted under section 21 of the act of March, 1867, for selling petroleum oil for tiluminating purposes, inflammable at a less temperature nating purposes, inflammable at a less temperature than 110 degrees Fahrenneit. On demurrer the following questions, on which the judges were divided—were accordingly certified here, whether the facts charged constitute any offence under a valid law, and whether the twenty-first section of the act is valid and constitutional law, Mr. Chief Justice Chase delivered the opinion of the Court, holding congress has no constitutional power to establish police regulations within the States, and that the law in question being an enactment for the protection of consumers against canger in the use of oil too inflammable for safety is such a regulation, and is therefore unconstitutional and void. The questions were answered in the negative, except that in respect to the second. The law is held to be valid as to all territory of the United States outside the limits of any State.

Seizure Under the Confiscation Acts.

Henry Petham vs. David G. Rose et al.—Certifi-cate of Division from the Circuit Court for the Discation act of 1862 against a promissory note belong-ing to Pelhum for $2,000. The marshal returned that ing to Pelham for $2,000. The marshal returned that he had arrested the property, and in pursuance of an order of the court the note was sold to its maker for $3,000. Pelham thereapon sued Rose, the marshal making the seizure, and his sureties to recover the amount of the note, avowing a laise return to the writ of monition by the marshal, and that the seizure of the note was never made, it having been all the while in his (Pelnam's) possession in Kentucky. The defendant demurred and the Court differs in opinion on the questions whether the actual seizure of the note in the case was necessary, whether the return of the Marshal should be construed to mean that such seizure was made, and whether the proceedings below estopped Peinam from maintaining an action on the note certified them to this court. Mr. Justice Field delivered the opinion of the court, answering the first two questions in the adirmative, holding that it was the property and credit, or the note in question, whose seizure was contemplated, and not the mere debt of the maker of the note to Pelham. The third question was considered hypothetical, and was therefore, not answered.

Specific Performance of Contract.

Specific Performance of Contract. John E. Moie vs. Benjamin Mole and Wile.—Appeal from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia .- In this case John E. Mole agreed, in furtherance of the marriage between his son, the detendant, and the lady who became his wife, to give to the intended bride a lot of land, provided a house for their home was built upon it, with money belonging to her. The marriage took place and the house was built. Suissequently, the nusband and wife being absent, and the house held it, professing to have afterwards determined not to make the gilt of the property. The court below sustained the contract, and decreed a specific performance. This court now affirmed that decree, Mr. Justice Davis delivering the opinion, holding that the building of the house with the knowledge and consent of the donor was sufficient evidence of part performance to take the case out of the statute of frauds, and that this was not a case for damages to the aggritely edjusties, but for specific performance. Decision Against the Government in the La furtherance of the marriage between his son, the Decision Against the Government in the La Brea Case.

The United States vs. Antonio Rocha et al.—Appeal from the District Court for the Southern District of California:-This case involves the title to a league of land in Los Angeles, Cal., there called La Brea or Bitamino. The decree below was against the government and the settlers, and the case was brought here on the ground that the claimant's title was not based on an absolute grant, but merely upon permission to pasture cattle, cultivate, &c. The decree below was now affirmed, Mr. Justice Nelson delivering the opinion of the court. Dissent by Mr. Justice Clifford.

The McGarraban Case. Evidence on the McGarrahan case has been closed before the House Committee on the Judiciary. The argument will commence Wednesday. Mr. Shaw, of New York, will open for McGarranan, to be followed by Messrs. Evaris and Whison, for the New India Company. Mr. Pascal will conclude for McGarrahan.

The Steamboat Joseph Johnson vs. M. Cora et al., and one other case.—Appeal from the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York...—These were cases of collision, in which the Circuit Court held the steamer named to be solely in fault, and rendered a decree accordingly. The decree was affirmed. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Mr. Justice Clifford.

Smith es. Morse et el.—Error to the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York.—This was a case growing out of certain agreements between the parties concerning Morse's telegraph. The action was founded on award by arbitrators made in lavor of Morse, which was, not performed, and resulted below in favor of defendants in error. The judgment of the court below was affirmed. Mr. Justice Field delivered the opinion of the Court.

The Hammbal and St. Joseph Radroad Company vs. Smith.—Error to the Supreme Court of Missouri.—The judgment of the lower count was affirmed. Mr. Justice Miller delivered the opinion of the Court.

Morris vs. Jackson.—Error to the Circuit Court for the Southern District of Ithiois... Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Mr. Justice Miller.

The Cuty of Cheago vs. Sheldon.—Appeal from the Circuit Court for the Northern District of Ithios.—The court below decided in this case that by fa sound construction of the laws and ordinances under which the Chicago City Radiway Company was organized and is in possession of the Streets of their roads, a contract was established by which the Rahway Company was organized and is in possession for the Rahway Company was organized and is in possession of the freety for the purposes of their roads, a contract was established by which the Rahway Company was organized and is in possession of the freety for the purposes of their roads, a contract was established by which the Rahway Company was now affirmed. Opinion by Mr. Justice was now affirmed. Opinion by Mr. Justice of the District of Wisconsin.—The Chief Justice announced the decision of the Court affirming the decree of the Circuit.

The Pickets Still in Arms Against the New Government-Measures Taken to Subdue Them-Will of Salnave-Nothing yet Heard from the Ram Atlanta.

PORT AU PRINCE, Feb. 9, 1870.

PORT AU PRINCE, Feb. 9, 1870.

The pickets are still giving trouble to the authorities, and several encounters had taken place in the suburbs of Jeremie. They declare their determination to hold out to the last, notwithstanding the loss of Sainave, their chief. They hold several small of Sainave, their chief. They hold several small places in that part of the country, but are not formidable, in the face of the Cacos. The government is resolved to reduce them to subjection, and General Brice has been sent down by the war steamer Florida, with a strong force of troops, for this purpose. The provisional government is determined to execute all those who took a prominent part in the Sainave government, and already a large number, including General Vil Lubin, have been shot. Nearly 100 more have been condemned and are awaiting execution, besides a long list of accused who are now being tried, among whom are the names of seventy generals of division, brigadiers and other officers of the late army.

A commission of which General Damier is chief, had arrived at Jeremie to treat with the pickets on the subject of laying down their arms and returning to peaceful avocations; but they resolutely refused to listen to any terms. Communication with the interior is thus interrupted, but coffee is coming in pientifully by other routes.

A decree has been issued calling on the citizens to abstain from violence during the sitting of the revolutionary tribunal, and ordering out the National Guard of Port an Prince to preserve order.

The charges made against those new on trial are similar to those unade against Sainave—namely, treason, assassination, fire, pillage, &c., and violating the arricles 44, 45, 68, 74, 241, 247, 255 and 661 of the Penni Code.

Nord Alexis left here about ten days ago, with the war steamer Pequot, for Cape Hayten, since which time nothing has been heard from him.

It will be remembered that before Sainave's execution he asked for a quarter of an hour for the purpose of arranging his affairs, which was granted, and that he gave a letter which he wrote at that time to the president of the court. The following is a translation of the letter, which appears to be a will:—
